From the Pastor's Desk

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Then you will call on me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart. I will be found by you," declares the Lord... -

Family, in Christ,

The new year is upon us! With that come fresh hopes and expectations, fresh visions and dreams, new purpose and resolution. This year we receive Jesus' challenge afresh: to seek first (that is, above other things, before we seek other things, the primary aim of our lives) the Kingdom of God, and his (not our own, as though achievement or our works surpassed his grace in our lives) righteousness.

I had opportunity a short time ago to talk with some folks about involvement with the Church. I shared that what the local churches really need is people who are involved in their life – that is, people who involve the church in their lives. Which doesn't necessarily mean the programming of the church, or giving money to the church (though it could involve either, or both, of these). But as far as the Church is comprised of people, not bricks-and-mortar, involving the local church in our lives means meaningful interactions with other Christians: gathering together for public worship on Sundays; meeting with others to work through a Bible study series; regularly holding one another in prayer, sharing with others what is in our hearts; using the talents God has given us, both the innate ones and the ones we've developed over our lifetimes, for the building up of God's Kingdom.

In both Souris and Brandon we have had some big building projects either recently completed or about to break ground. Having safely and easily accessible buildings for our corporate worship services is important; having appropriately reverent and awe-inspiring worship spaces to meet in is important: these things speak to the grandeur of the God who has brought us together. At the same time, it would be a shame if incredible buildings were all that our communities were about. The Holy Spirit's work among us, transforming this rag-tag band of misfits into a community worthy of the name of Jesus, could be the greatest thing about us. Jesus' words of warning to those who are concerned about outward appearance and not inner content (Matt. 23:27-28) are comparison to whitewashed tombs, full of death.

We are called into new life, and to lay hold of it through meaningful interaction with one another. How might you take part in the life of Christ's Church through meaningful relationship with others from our local church community? Is there a book of the Bible you'd like to work through, in a group? Is there a particular topic that you'd like to find a study series on? Who do you know and trust that you can share your heart's concerns with them, and trust them to hold your situations in prayer? Who do you know that you can do that for? If the parish held special events, what would you like to see? How can we grow together, as we continue to walk together, in 2026?

God bless you, as you prayerfully discern.
